4.5.4 Self-Directed Activities - Registrants may complete a maximum of 8 CEUs in self-directed course study. Self-directed course study encourages flexibility of study by registrants and includes, but is not limited to, educational activities such as self-study courses sponsored by professional associations, organized individual or group study of professional specialization topics, or reading specific professional oriented books and articles. Self-directed activities must be health/safety/welfare related and shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Reading books or magazine articles
2. Visiting architecturally significant sites
3. Viewing video presentations
4. Making professional or technical presentations at meetings, conventions, or conferences, or teaching/instructing a qualified presentation (initial presentation only)
5. (Teaching credit shall not apply to full-time faculty at a college, university, or other education provider except that a teacher or professor offering a new course, with documentation to prove the establishment of the new course, may claim credit after having taught the new course for the first time. Also, a teacher or professor may claim credit for a course the initial time he or she serves as the instructor or teacher for that course.)
6. Authoring published papers, articles, or books
7. Actively participating in a technical professional society or organization as an officer or committee member
8. Participating in activities that contribute to the welfare of the community and are directly related to the practice of landscape architecture
9. Mentoring a landscape architecture student and/or graduate who intends to seek licensure as a landscape architect, or, if pre-approved by the Committee, other individuals who intend to seek licensure as a landscape architect.

B. Self-directed activities are allowed provided that the registrant maintain, and present upon audit or the Committee's request, a log and narrative which:

1. Accounts for the amount of time spent completing the activity; and
2. summarizes the content of the activity; and
3. provides satisfactory proof to the Committee that the activity is related to the health, safety, and welfare of the public.
4. In the case of mentoring, the landscape architect shall also submit a written affidavit, signed by the the individual being mentored, which documents the time the landscape architect has spent in mentoring activities.
